

Can't afford health coverage?

If you can't afford health coverage, you're not required to buy it. If you didn't qualify for Medicaid or Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) coverage, and you aren't eligible for lower costs through the Health Insurance Marketplace, you still have options that could help.

You can apply for an exemption so you won't have to pay a fee for going without coverage. If you live in a state that didn't expand Medicaid and your Marketplace eligibility notice says you have an exemption, you don't need to apply separately for an exemption.

For more information, visit:

HealthCare.gov/exemptions

You may be able to get low-cost health care at a community health center.

To locate a community health center near you, visit:

findahealthcenter.hrsa.gov

CMS Product No.11796
April 2014

